CUT ROOM - SPECIAL EQUIPMENT OPERATOR

ESSENTIAL DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Utilizing programmable panel and dimensional cutting equipment
- Selecting correct material and calculating the quantity needed to complete job.
- Maintain minimum levels of waste - utilize drops per cut sheets
- Follow and complete QIS production package for quality and optimization of wood
- Preparing and using woodworking machinery to create required components
- Demonstrated understanding of set-up and editing programs
- Computer literate
- Knowledge of basic maintenance on woodworking machinery.
- Keeping work areas clean and safe.
- Wood machining involves standing for long periods at the machine and frequent bending and movement while setting up.
- A demonstrated understanding of Mathematics and construction measurements.
- Must be able to communicate intelligently
- Prior work experience in a manufacturing environment operating a woodworking cutting machine
- Must be coordinated and able to work quickly and safely.
- Must be able to work without constant supervision.
- Flexible and willing to take on multiple duties as assigned or as needed.
- Attention to detail.
- Self motivated.
- Must be able to travel for training as needed.

PHYSICAL DEMANDS

You will consistently lift between 20 to 40 lbs. throughout the day in order to successfully complete the duties and requirements of this position. The ability to communicate verbally with management and other co-workers is important.

WORK ENVIRONMEMT

The job is performed indoors on a manufacturing floor. Exposure to loud noises, dust, dirt, heat, and sparks may occur. Protective safety equipment may be required including appropriate clothing, shoes, gloves, ear protection and goggles as needed. Activities include extended periods of standing.